

TABLE OF CONTENTS.

	PAGE.
CHAPTER I.—Yaduraja to Chikka Devaraja Wodeyar..	1 to 10
CHAPTER II.—Struggle for power among the ministers and appearance of Haidar Ali ... ..	11 to 17
CHAPTER III.—Differences among the ministers con- tinued—Salabat Jung's invasion—Support to Muhammad Ali of Arcot ... ..	18 to 24
CHAPTER IV.—Compromise between the ministers— Rise of Haidar Ali ... ..	25 to 32
CHAPTER V.—Return of the Mahrattas—Fall of Nanjaraj—Haidar supreme dictator ... ..	33 to 42
CHAPTER VI.—Haidar's friendship with Basalat Jung—Acquisition of Doddaballapur, Chikballa- pur, Sira and Bednore ... ..	43 to 52
CHAPTER VII.—Haidar's reverses at the hands of the Mahrattas and conclusion of peace—Madhava Rao's invasion of Mysore—Death of Immadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar and other events ... ..	53 to 60
CHAPTER VIII.—The principal political actors of the period—Fate of Nanjaraj ... ..	61 to 67
CHAPTER IX.—Termination of the first Mysore War with the English ... ..	68 to 74
CHAPTER X.—Fresh Mahratta invasion of Mysore ... ..	75 to 83
CHAPTER XI.—Agreement with Raghunatha Rao— Gutti conquered—Other events ... ..	84 to 89
CHAPTER XII.—Annexation of Chitaldrug and other events ... ..	90 to 97
CHAPTER XIII.—Advances to Haidar from Poona ministers for a compact against the English and other events ... ..	98 to 105

	PAGE.
CHAPTER XIV.—Second War with the English	... 106 to 111
CHAPTER XV.—War with the English continued— Haidar's death	... 112 to 117
CHAPTER XVI.—Haidar's character and abilities— Other matters	... 118 to 122
CHAPTER XVII.—Tippu's succession to power and conclusion of peace with the English	... 123 to 130
CHAPTER XVIII.—Life of British prisoners at Seringa- patam	... 131 to 136
CHAPTER XIX.—Embassies to Turkey and France— Some innovations	... 137 to 140
CHAPTER XX.—Third War with the English	... 141 to 149
CHAPTER XXI.—War continued	... 150 to 156
CHAPTER XXII.—Lord Cornwallis' second march on Seringapatam	... 157 to 164
CHAPTER XXIII.—Conditions of peace and surrender of hostages by Tippu	... 165 to 169
CHAPTER XXIV.—Punishment of Palegars—Further innovations—Death of Chamaraja Wodeyar IX.	170 to 181
CHAPTER XXV.—Lord Mornington's proposal to Tippu to send an agent to his court and his reply	... 182 to 188
CHAPTER XXVI.—The last war with the English— Battles of Malavalli and Siddeswar	... 189 to 195
CHAPTER XXVII.—Siege of Seringapatam by General Harris	... 196 to 204
CHAPTER XXVIII.—Capture of Seringapatam	... 205 to 216
CHAPTER XXIX.—Funeral of Tippu	... 217 to 222
CHAPTER XXX.—Tippu's day-to-day administration	... 223 to 237
CHAPTER XXXI.—Establishment of order	... 238 to 242

CHAPTER XXXII.—Partition of the territories of Tippu Sultan among the allies and the re-constitution of the Mysore State ... ..	243 to 249
CHAPTER XXXIII.—Prize-money and its distribution..	250 to 255
CHAPTER XXXIV.—Removal of Tippu's family to Vellore and ultimately to Calcutta ...	256 to 262
CHAPTER XXXV.—Installation of Mummadi Krishnaraja Wodeyar—Part played by Rani Lakshmi Ammanni in regaining the lost power of her family.	263 to 272
CHAPTER XXXVI.—The Subsidiary Treaty of 1799 between Krishnaraja Wodeyar and the East India Company ... ..	273 to 277
✓ CHAPTER XXXVII.—General and economic conditions of Mysore in the early part of the 19th century ...	278 to 284
CHAPTER XXXVIII.—General and economic conditions of Mysore—( continued ) ... ..	285 to 289
CHAPTER XXXIX.—General and economic conditions of Mysore—( continued ) ... ..	290 to 296
CHAPTER XL.—Land tenure—Modes of cultivation—Wages of labour—Distribution of crop ...	297 to 302
CHAPTER XLI.—Land Tenure—Modes of cultivation—Wages of labour—Distribution of crop—( continued ) ... ..	303 to 308
CHAPTER XLII.—Manufacture and Trade in the early part of the 19th century ... ..	309 to 319
CHAPTER XLIII.—The people of Mysore in the early part of the 19th century ... ..	320 to 328
CHAPTER XLIV.—Personnel of the new administration—Political position of the new Mysore State.	329 to 335
CHAPTER XLV.—Form of Administration—Territorial Divisions of the State—Departments of Government—Taxation—Criminal and Civil Justice—Military and Kandachar force ... ..	336 to 342

CHAPTER XLVI.—Establishment of internal tranquillity—Dhondoji Wagh—Venkatadri Naik, Palegar of Aigoor ... ..	343 to 350
CHAPTER XLVII.—Co-operation of Mysore with the British troops in the second Mahratta War ...	351 to 358
CHAPTER XLVIII.—Appreciation of General Wellesley's work by the inhabitants of Seringapatam—His return to Europe—His letter to Purnaiya—Observations of Wellesley on some of the topics of the day ... ..	359 to 366
CHAPTER XLIX.—Other important matters relating to Purnaiya's administration ... ..	367 to 375
CHAPTER L.—Other important matters relating to Purnaiya's administration—( continued )—Mutiny of the British troops ... ..	376 to 382
CHAPTER LI.—Retirement and death of Purnaiya ...	383 to 386
CHAPTER LII.—The disadvantages under which Krishnaraja Wodeyar laboured—Further co-operation of Mysore troops in British campaigns—Establishment of the town of Chamarajanagar ...	387 to 393
CHAPTER LIII.—General administration of the State... ..	394 to 400
CHAPTER LIV.—Persons of influence at the court of the Maharaja ... ..	401 to 406
CHAPTER LV.—Land Assessment and Sharat or Contract System ... ..	407 to 409
CHAPTER LVI.—Abuse of the Sharat System—Visit of Sir Thomas Munro, Governor of Madras ...	410 to 415
CHAPTER LVII.—Outbreak of insurrection—Its contributory causes ... ..	416 to 419
CHAPTER LVIII.—Outbreak of insurrection in parts of Nagar, Chitaldrug and Bangalore Foujdaries ...	420 to 424

	PAGE.
CHAPTER LIX.—Visit of the Maharaja to Chennaraya- patna and other places ... ..	425 to 429
CHAPTER LX.—Insurrection in Nagar ... ..	430 to 436
CHAPTER LXI.—Visit of the Governor of Madras to Mysore—Employment of more subsidiary troops in Nagar—Transfer of the administration to the Company ... ..	437 to 441
CHAPTER LXII.—Final suppression of the Insurrection.	442 to 451
CHAPTER LXIII.—Appointment of an Enquiry Com- mission by Lord William Bentinck and its conclusions—Bentinck's regret for his action ...	452 to 458
CHAPTER LXIV.—Agricultural, trading and other con- ditions when the British Commission assumed the administration ... ..	459 to 465
CHAPTER LXV.—Briggs' differences with the Madras Government and his resignation ... ..	466 to 469
CHAPTER LXVI.—Changes introduced in the adminis- tration by Col. Briggs and Bentinck's approval of them with some modifications ... ..	470 to 478
CHAPTER LXVII.—Thomas Babington (afterwards Lord) Macaulay's visit to Mysore—Colonel Mark Cubbon (afterwards Sir) appointed sole Commissioner—His treatment of the pategars— Abolition of the Residency ... ..	479 to 484
CHAPTER LXVIII.—Some early administrative changes and improvements—Visit of Lord Dalhousie—End of the patriarchal system of Government—Some men of Cubbon's time— Attempted transfer of Mysore to the control of the Madras Government ... ..	485 to 489
CHAPTER LXIX.—Administrative changes and im- provements during Cubbon's time ... ..	490 to 497

CHAPTER LXX.—Administrative changes and improvements during Cubbon's time—( continued )	... 498 to 503
CHAPTER LXXI.—Administrative changes and improvements during Cubbon's time—( continued ) —Retirement of Cubbon	... 504 to 511
CHAPTER LXXII.—Bowring's assumption of charge as Commissioner—His early career—Interview with the Maharaja—Mysore becomes a Regulation Province under Bowring—Inspection of offices and their re-organisation—Prince Gulam Muhammad's charity	... 512 to 518
CHAPTER LXXIII.—Judicial Reforms—Police re-organisation—Education and Local Self-Government	... 519 to 523
CHAPTER LXXIV.—Land Survey and Settlement— Inam Settlement	... 524 to 531
CHAPTER LXXV.—Bowring's resignation of office and departure from Mysore—Opinions on some of the topics of the day—Some letters of Mrs. Bowring	... 532 to 539
CHAPTER LXXVI.—Krishnaraja Wodeyar III and maintenance of harmonious relations with the British Government.	... 540 to 547
CHAPTER LXXVII.—Krishnaraja Wodeyar's early attempts for reinstatement—Court of Directors shift ground—Lord Dalhousie's desire to annex Mysore—His minute to apply the Doctrine of Lapse to Mysore	... 548 to 551
CHAPTER LXXVIII.—Fresh hopes raised by the Queen's Proclamation—Adoption Circular withheld from Krishnaraja Wodeyar—Further appeal to Canning and his adverse decision—Decision of Sir Charles Wood, Secretary of State, supporting Canning—Dissenting minutes by two members of the India Council	... 552 to 559

CHAPTER LXXIX.—Bowring communicates Secretary of State's decision to the Maharaja—Maharaja re-urges claim—Secretary of State's approval of the reply of the Government of India—Protest by two members of the India Council ... 560 to 563

CHAPTER LXXX.—Dr. Campbell's return from England—Presents to the Maharaja from Queen Victoria—Interest in the Mysore Cause created in England—Petition of the people of Mysore in favour of the Maharaja—The Hon'ble Lakshmi Narasa Chetty and the Mysore Cause—Dr. Campbell as agent of the Maharaja in England—Fresh appeal to Sir John Lawrence and his adverse opinion ... 564 to 570

CHAPTER LXXXI.—Adoption of Chamaraja Wodeyar—Intimation of the same to the Commissioner, the Governor-General and the Secretary of State—Their replies—Strong support to the adoption by three members of the India Council—Arguments against the adoption by three other members ... 571 to 578

CHAPTER LXXXII.—Overtures to offer some concessions to the Maharaja—The Maharaja's rejection—Maharaja's unalloyed faith in Dr. Campbell ... 579 to 583

CHAPTER LXXXIII.—The struggle in England—Change of ministry in England—Lord Cranborne Secretary of State in succession to Sir Charles Wood—Interview with Lord Cranborne by a deputation led by Sir Henry Rawlinson—Support of the press in England in favour of preserving the integrity of the State of Mysore—John Morley's clear exposition of the Mysore Case ... 584 to 592

CHAPTER LXXXIV.—Recognition of the adopted son by the Government in England—Debate in Parliament—Durbar in the Mysore Palace ...	593 to 600
CHAPTER LXXXV.—Death of Krishnaraja Wodeyar III—Chamaraja Wodeyar proclaimed successor—Personal characteristics of Krishnaraja Wodeyar III ...	601 to 609

MODERN MYSORE